VCOA FIELD TRIAL

AKC Licensed April 19 & 20, 1969

Colorado Springs, Colorado

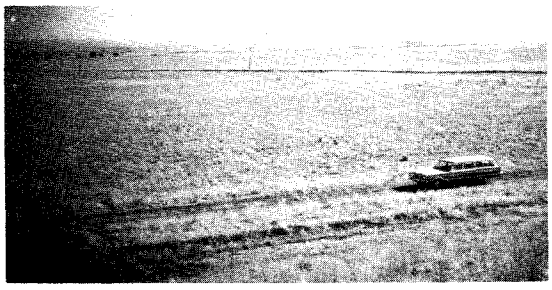
by Jim Rose

The Vizsla Club of America will hold the VCOA spring field trial on April 19 and 20 at Colorado Springs, Colorado on the grounds of Fort Carson Rod and Gun Club, located just 15 minutes SOUTH of Colorado Springs, on State Highway 115. These grounds are in excellent shape with good cover and plenty of level ground, so the dogs should really be able to move out.

Entry Forms

Entry blanks will be mailed with this issue of the News. (Note from editor: They are not here yet, and I hope I will not regret being optomistic.) Extra blanks may be obtained from the News office, or from the Field Trial Secretary, Johnnie Laucus, 333 So. Pierson, Lakewood, Colorado.

We are planning on running only one course at a time so the spectators can watch all the action. This was very successful at the Colorado State Trial last fall with 97 entries, so we hope to have the same smooth field trial this spring. There is a small lake on the west end of the trial grounds with a dike around the East end, facing the grounds. This will be a beautiful location to watch the entire course. The picture below shows the course from this location. Cameras and binoculars are welcome.



Everyone is invited to bring campers and trailers, but there will be no overnight camping on the trial grounds. However, a private campground, EAGLE CAMPGROUND, will open up a couple of weeks early to accommodate us. This is located just a few minutes north of the grounds, between the grounds and Colorado Springs. This campground is located back off the highway to the west at the foot of the mountains. Lots of trees, a beautiful mountain stream, and room for your dogs to get exercise. There is water, sewer, and electric hookups along with restrooms with running water and a shower house. The cost of $1.75 per day.

Motels

Colorado Springs has many motels, but the following is a list of these that are on the south edge of town that we know will accept dogs.

DREAM MOTEL, 1647 South Nevada Ave., Colorado Springs. Over 25 units. Reasonable in price, from $9.00 up depending on the number of people. Telephone number is 1-303-633-3894.

WESTERN HILLS MOTOR HOTEL 1623 South Nevada Avenue. Over 100 units. Very nice. Prices from $9.00 up. The telephone number is 1-303-632-6651. There is a beautiful view from both of these if you like to look at the mountains.

GARDEN VALLEY MOTEL, 2860 South Circle Drive. Great gobs of rooms, I'm sure over 300 of them. Telephone number is 1-303-473-8020. This motel will be used as the field trial headquarters until the trial starts on Saturday morning.

The kick-off banquet will be held at Dotts Lounge on Nevada Street. Fried chicken dinner at $2.50 per person. The Judges Banquet will be at the Garden Valley Motel in the Colorado Room. Club steak at $4.95 per person. Both places highly recommended.

Headquarters

ROOM 103 at the GARDEN VALLEY MOTEL will be the hospitality room on Friday afternoon from at least noon until ?????? So come in and let us know who you are and that you have come to visit us.

Trophy Fund

CATALOG LISTINGS AND DONATIONS TO THE TROPHY FUND may be sent to Jim Rose, Field Trial Chairman, 793 Merry Lane, Boulder, Colorado 80302

Horses

Horses may be reserved through Jim Rose or the field trial secretary.

The Vizsla Club of Colorado would like to invite you to come out a week early (April 12 and 13) and participate in the Colorado State Trial. The location is the same as for the national.

As Colorado has so many things to see and places to visit, we are sure you won't be bored between trials. Just to name a few, there is the Air Force Academy. This is probably the number one attraction in the Colorado Springs area. They have scheduled tours and I think the chapel at the Academy is known the world over. The Academy is only about a 10-minute drive north of the Springs.

An interesting feature that all children love is the Cheyenne Mountain Zoo. This is one of the most complete and unusual zoological collections in the world. The pens, cages and houses are kept spotlessly clean.

Then there is the Royal Gorge Bridge. The world's highest suspension bridge spanning 1053 feet above the Arkansas River.

And last, but not by any means least, to just name a few, there are always the famous Colorado Ghost towns and Central City just a short trip into the mountains west of Denver.

We hope you can come to Colorado for the nationals of 1969 and if possible, come a week early for the Colorado trial. April is a beautiful time of the year and as it is still a little early for the crowded tourist traffic, you should be able to see all the sights in comfort. I think that I should also mention here that our altitude is between 5,500 and 6,500 feet high.

Northern California Supports Entries

by Ginny Crawford

Margaret Meminger, well-known breeder-judge of Vizslas, is coming to the Del Monte Kennel Club's 1969 show and will judge a supported entry there. The show will be held on the Del Monte Polo Field in Pebble Beach, California, on May 25th. Entries wil close at noon on Tuesday, May 6th, in the office of the superintendent (The Jack Bradshaws). For premium lists and entry blanks, write to Mrs. William Crawford, Del Monte Kennel Club, 2932 Sloat Road, Pebble Beach, California 93953. The Vizsla Club of Northern California is supporting the entry with a beautiful array of Curoc trophies - trays, bowls, and boxes inlaid with a California Quail design -- and the Best of Breed trophy will be the highly desirable DMKC engraved silver-plated brandy snifter. The committee is planning a festive luncheon for all participants after the judging is completed. We are looking forward to having Mrs. Meminger with us to benefit from her long experience in the breed, and wish to invite Vizsla owners everywhere to join us for a gala day.

OFA RESULTS

Correspondence from the Orthopedic Foundation for Animals, Inc., contains statistical results concerning the first 3500 dogs submitted for their evaluation. Of the first 3500 submitted, 2237 were certified by the organization's Dysplasia Control Registry as having "no radiographic evidence of hip dysplasia." These dogs represent 57 different breeds, and thus any statistical evaluation for any specific breed is impossible because of the small number of dogs concerned. Of course, some breeds made more enviable showings than others. For example, 26 out of 27 Afghan Hounds examined received certification as did 13 out of 14 German Shorthaired Pointers on whom x-rays were submitted. Others included: 8 out of 29 Collies: 17 out of 21 Great Danes; 19 out of 24 Keeshonds, 24 out of 32 Great Pyrenees; 35 out of 48 Poodles; 64 out of 74 Standard Schnauzers; 81 out of 113 Brittany Spaniels; 141 out of 189 Samoyeds; 528 out of 704 Labrador Retrievers. Of the 64 radiographs of Vizslas received, 48 dogs have been certified as having normal hip joints.

Editorial

by Kathy Hartl

Across the page you will find information dealing with the Vizsla Club of America's hip dysplasia program and with the numbers of dogs certified by the OFA. Although Dr. Riser of the OFA calls the Vizsla record "a good showing" in a letter to me, these findings indicate that, while dysplasia is certainly not running rampant in the breed, it definitely is present. We have accumulated a good number of dogs that have been certified by either the OFA or the University of Minnesota. But the total number of these dogs is very small in comparison to the number of Vizslas being used for breeding. We may have a great divergence in the other traits for which we are breed, but certainly a basic aim of any breeding program should be to produce healthy pups., at the very least!

Directions for working through the VCOA for evaluation of dogs can be found in the February 1968 issue of the News or may be obtained from the News office. They will also be reprinted in the News in the near future.

BREED IMPROVEMENT COMMITTEE REPORT
February 1, 1969

To this date the Breed Improvement Committee has processed the hip dysplasia status of 124 radiographs of Vizslas. Of this number, 100 have been diagnosed at the University of Minnesota and 24 have been diagnosed by the Orthopedic Foundation for Animals. Of the 24 OFA certificates recorded by the committee, all were certified as normal. Of the 100 films submitted to the U. of M., 69 were classified as normal, 18 were diagnosed as dysplastic, 1 is in the process of being evaluated, and 12 films were not of diagnostic quality. Of the 69 Vizslas diagnosed as having normal hips by the U. of M., 23 were dogs of less than 30 months of age and were approved for a period of 12 months only. Several of these younger dogs have since been reX-rayed and now have permanent approval. The OFA certificate with the highest serial number that has been received so far is VZ-39 -- indicating that at least 39 radiographs of Vizslas have been evaluated as normal by the OFA. As mentioned above, 24 of these have been sent to the BIC to be recorded.

It is the opinion of the committee that no conclusions should be drawn from the above figures. For instance, to conclude that 20.7% of the Vizsla breed is dysplastic, because out of 87 films read by the U. of M., 18 were dysplastic, is inaccurate because of the inevitable screening of films that takes place at the local level before the films are sent in. It has never been the purpose of this committee to gather statistics or engage in research, and the foregoing figures are presented simply to keep the membership abreast of the activities of their committee. The purpose of your BIC has remained the same since its inception: to provide a source of expert pelvic evaluation for interested, conscientious breeders in order to assist in their breeding programs, and to help keep the VCOA membership informed of developments in the control of congenital defects in our breed.

We would like to take this opportunity to answer some questions that have been put to the Board of Directors about this committee. Suggestions for change are always welcomed and given full consideration. Suggestions that were felt to be in the best interest of the Vizsla breed in particular and the VCOA in general have been incorporated from time to time into committee policy. Two recent suggestions most frequently heard are as follows:

1. "The BIC should be re-named the 'Hip Dysplasia Committee'. Reason: This committee serves no purpose other than to prevent advertisement of Vizslas which have not been certified as having no detectable dysplastic tendencies in the hip joint. To call the committee by any other name is unrealistic in view of the repeated statements of those involved that they do not intend to review any other inheritable characteristic of the breed."

"A true 'Breed Improvement Committee' should be established. This committee should be instructed to make a study of those characteristics which most need to be improved in the general population of the breed, and to make recommendations to the membership as to positive actions the VCOA can make to encourage the improvements of these characteristics."

ANSWER: When the BIC was set up in 1965 it was felt that one such group could handle the entire field of congenital defects. At that time the most pressing issue was that of hip dysplasia and it is the opinion of the committee that this is still the situation. It seems impractical to break down this committee into a number of disassociated committees with overlapping responsibilities that would be hard to coordinate. True, there are other problems in the field of congenital defects that it would be well to investigate, but to date no member has ever approached the committee with a proposal to delve into any other specific defect. As chairman, I will welcome any such proposals, and I hope that they will be accompanied by some sort of a workable plan for achieving a reasonable result.

It is somewhat discouraging to still hear the old opinion that "this committee serves no purpose other than to prevent the advertising of Vizslas that have not been certified as having no detectable dysplastic tendencies". It has been stated many times that the BIC's primary purpose is to bring known facts to the attention of the membership, encourage those who breed the Vizsla to consider these facts in their breeding programs, and to supply a source of expert pelvic evaluation to those breeders who wish to make use of it. The requirement for advertising in the NEWS is secondary to this primary purpose and it would be a sad situation if the VCOA did not back up its convictions by insisting that only "clean" animals be offered for sale or stud in their breed publication.

As to the statement that "those involved do not intend to review any other inheritable characteristic of the breed", I am certain that no member of the committee, past or present, has made this statement or feels this way. It has simply been a matter of first things first, and we feel that the results of the committee's work in hip dysplasia has been rewarding and can be termed a success so far. The interest in dysplasia control and the number of members supporting the program by having their dogs x-rayed has grown consistantly since the inauguration of the BIC. This must continue in order to show significant improvement in the overall Vizsla breed. Please remember that your committee is composed of volunteer, lay people of limited time and means, and that more time is involved in the operation of this group than most people would realize. To refresh memories regarding the rough road that the BIC had in getting started, the progress that it has made, and also to re-emphasize some of the salient points known about dysplastic defects, may I suggest that you reread portions of the following issues of your VIZSLA NEWS: 1965; August, October, November and December. 1966; October and November. 1967; March, April, June, and October. 1968; January, February and June.

2. "The BIC should be instructed to release the names of dogs (and their owners) which have applied for certification and have not received certification due to a diagnosis of dysplastic tendencies. Reason: The names of dogs which have been certified is not sufficient, since certified dogs may transmit dysplastic characteristics to their offspring. By tying together the loose ends of parents, certified dogs, and offspring of certified dogs, it is much more probable that this characteristic can be avoided."

ANSWER: We do not dispute this reasoning, and we agree that having a listing of known dysplastic dogs would be of benefit to the breeder in selecting his breeding stock, but, here again, we must oppose a change in the present policy of holding in strict confidence the names of those dogs that are found to be dysplastic. First of all, all radiographs submitted to date have been sent in with the understanding that the findings on dysplastic dogs would be treated as confidential information. This confidence, of course, cannot be broken without the owner's permission. As to changing this agreement on x-rays to come in in the future, it is the committee's opinion that the program will continue to receive better support under the present confidential arrangement. It seems to be human nature for most owners to prefer that the knowledge of dysplasia in their kennels be held as private information between the party making the diagnosis and themselves. Other agencies engaged in similar projects (such as OFA) have employed this same philosophy and apparently continue to feel that they are better supported because of it.

May we, the members of your Breed Improvement Committee, also take this opportunity to thank the VCOA membership and others for their support of this important program through their many constructive letters as well as by submitting radiographs and OFA certificates. We have done our best to answer the many questions put to us - - unfortunately there are still many questions for which there are no positive answers. We are confident that with the continued and increased cooperation of Vizsla owners, correlated with similar projects being carried on by other breeds, the answers to these questions will be found at an ever increasing rate.

Sincerely,

R. C. Reinhardt

★ Advertize in the NEWS ★

Last fall the VCOA ran the following ad in two national sporting magazines:

> VIZSLA information on breed clubs, standards, breeders. Vizsla Club of America . . . . . .

This ad resulted in about 80 responses. A similiar ad will be placed again in May, and hopefully will be done on a regular schedule.

Responses to these ads will be sent a copy of the current News, a "Presenting the Vizsla" flyer, and a form letter with pertinent information and a list of local club secretaries.

This is a way of serving the VCOA members as well as fulfilling the VCOA purpose of publicizing the breed. Some of the respondents will be interested in purchasing puppies or dogs, and an ad in the Vizsla News will in this way be sent to many people outside the club who are interested in the Vizsla. SO GET YOUR ADS IN.

If any Vizsla Club has had elections recently and has not sent the results to the News office, please do so as soon as possible so that the list which is sent out is up to date.

NOTICE

ANYONE WHO HAS NOT YET RETURNED THE FORM FOR AKC THAT WAS SENT IN THE LAST TWO ISSUES OF THE NEWS IS URGED TO SEND THE INFORMATION TO CARLO ZEZZA. His address is on the back of every news.

If you are a member of the VCOA, please list the following information and send it to Carlo: Name of husband and wife (for family membership), address, occupation, business or profession of each member, year from which each person has maintained a continuous membership in the VCOA, the breed (s) in which you are interested, the number of shows or trials in which you have exhibited in the last three (3) years, and the approximate number of litters you have bred in the last five (5) years.
