EDITOR'S NOTE

For the last few months, several readers have received "The Vizsla News" even though their dues have lapsed. We have not been too concerned, since the cost of mailing is minimal and our main concern is publishing the issues and getting caught up.

Now, time will permit our updating and coordinating the mailing lists. It is our intention that only members and subscribers will receive the "News." If your dues are unpaid, this should be the last issue you will receive.

We have several additions and corrections in various categories. (Please refer to Page 18.) These will be incorporated in their appropriate areas as soon as time permits. In many instances, even a small addition or correction entails typesetting the entire page once again.

CH. ZACHARY OF SLEEPY HOLLOW
"Zach"

Zachary earned his first five points under Judge C. A. McKinzie, going Winners Dog and Best of Winners, at Silver Bay Kennel Club in San Diego on February 26, 1978. He completed his championship with three majors shortly over a month later on April 1, 1978, at Sun Maid Kennel Club under Judge Donald I. Sandberg.

Sired by CH. Hall's Desert Don Juan, C.D.X., out of CH. Phoenician Princess, Zachary is the first champion to carry the "Sleepy Hollow" kennel name. He is the seventh of eight champions produced by his dam, a 1975 Kennel Review Top Producer. Zach was Breeder-Owner handled to his championship by Rita Mather.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Our thanks to Maryann Ingraffia, Editor of the Vizsla Club of Illinois Bulletin for submitting the following article, originally published in the Goldcoast Kennel Club's February, 1978, issue of "Puddles and Piles." It is most timely and very true. Perhaps, each Kennel Club should have a patrol at the various motels in order that our sport will not be jeopardized by these thoughtless people.)

DO UNTO OTHERS AS YOU WOULD HAVE THEM DO UNTO YOU

by

Leslie Valiunas

The time has come and is long overdue to convey thoughts and feelings on a deplorable situation that has long plagued show-giving organizations and exhibitors. As Area & National Show Chairman for three years with my own Breed Club, I have increasingly become aware of a mounting problem which I wish to discuss with you.

I personally know of three specialty clubs who have not policed their exhibitors who attend shows while these exhibitors are guests at motels with their dogs. When one looks for a convenient location to hold a show and conveniently located motels to accommodate entrants at their shows, they are not met with open arms. "Dogs, ugh! No, thanks," is all too often the reply. Why? Because it's apparent that when some people --- or should I say animals calling themselves humans --- attend shows and stay in motels, they do not care in the least about good manners, cleanliness, and consideration of others. When one allows their dogs to run at large and deficate wherever or whenever they please, this leaves managers, owners, and other guests acutely aware and disgusted with show people and their dogs. Are we ruining things, not only for ourselves, but also for property owners? We are!

I've been told, while seeking accomodations for entrants of our specialty show, "Never again . . . Sorry, but . . ."

This has become all too familiar to my ears and doesn't leave any room for arguments and also makes one feel ashamed and embarrassed for our sport. I've heard things like:

"We've had to replace carpets in several rooms at great expense and clean all the others immediately after your dog people left our grounds.

"Our switchboard was alive all night with complaints of excessive barking at all hours of the day and night. This really disturbs other guests TRYING to sleep in their rooms which they, too, have paid for."

' Bed spreads had to be replaced as "Fido" ate it or tore holes in it making his own bed on people beds."

"Plumbing costs are high, especially when drains are clogged up with dog hair.

' A good maid is hard to find and easy to loose," one motel manager told me. He also said he lost three top maids after a group of dog folk stayed at his motel. He said that when these maids opened the rooms to clean, they slammed the doors shut and ran out exclaiming they cannot be expected to clean up such a place.

I can't blame them. These and many more complaints are put forth each time dogs have embarked on such places. It's NOT the dogs' fault, is it? It's the owners or handlers who are sadly to blame. I'm ashamed for all of them but worse yet, these unthinking, uncaring people ruin things permanently for all others who maybe do care about other's property as they care for their own. I wonder if the uncaring people live like this at home. I think not, in most cases. So, follow the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.

I've set forth my own version of Doggy Ten Commandments and hopefully it will sink into one's head that if not taken into acute consideration, the day is fast approaching when only a tent in a prairie will be available for us to use and we'll be lucky at that to find such a place!

DOGGY TEN COMMANDMENTS
TO FOLLOW WHEN TRAVELING WITH THY BELOVED ANIMALS

1. Thou shalt keep thy animals under strict control at all times.
2. Thou shalt not allow thy animal to run at large.
3. Thou shalt not leave thy unattended animals on show grounds or loose in any motel rooms.
4. Thou shalt keep thy animals crated when not able to keep them in hand.
5. Thou shalt exercise thy animals in designated areas only.
6. Thou shalt clean up after any defication accidently or otherwise put forth by thy animals and properly dispose of same.
7. Thou shalt not allow thy animals to indulge in barking, howling, or whining in motel rooms or any other public place.
8. Thou shalt not groom or bathe thy animals in motels or undesignated areas at shows. (Thou shalt take care of that at home.)
9. Thou shalt do everything in thy power to see to it that others obey these rules.
10. Thou shalt be respectful of others and their properties at all times.

REMINDER

WARNING: Warm weather is again the order of the day all over the nation and with it comes the danger of dogs dying in cars that are left for "just a minute." As we all know, the temperature in a car can soar in seconds, causing brain damage and finally agonizing death. Watch your dogs and warn others of this potentially fatal mistake on the part of well-meaning pet owners.
